John A. Murray.

In appreciation for his helpfulness throughout the trials and tribulations of our Junior and Senior years, the Senior Class wishes to dedicate our year-book, "Green Years" to John A. Murray, who has shown us that a keen wit, a soft voice, and a true understanding are the solutions to future guests.

FRESHMAN YEAR

We, the omnifarious, omnipotent, omniscient class of 1959, descended on the halls of Abington High School in September, 1955. With a burst of enthusiasm, we elected as our class officers: Bob Doherty, President; Rohnie Flagg, Vice-President; Nancy Damon, Secretary; and Shirley Smith, Treasurer.

One group of our innocent Freshmen walked confidently into their first period Latin class only to find Mr. G. as teacher. The SAME group walked into history class, third period, only to be greeted with a cheery "Haven't we met before?" There was Mr. G., our history teacher! During this year, our class learned the trials and tribulations of love from our dear, illustrious, confirmed-bachelor Latin teacher. What happened Mr. G., did the poems and zeal of your students break down your resistance?

We were not naive Freshmen for long, because we soon learned who was the "King of Room 13" and that S. F. or Science Fair was more than an institution, it was a person!

Next on our list of adventures was Jo Spooner's Halloween party. The prestige and power of our class was clearly reflected by the number of upper classmen who begged for our recognition.

For our Freshman Frolic, we had Jack McDermott as Disc Jockey. It was a night that broke an A.H.S. tradition--we didn't have a Freshman Flop! The rewards of the evening seem to be perpetually collected by some members of our class, for that was the night that the "Village Boys," under the leadership of Mike Danaitis, made its first appearance. Our class outing was held at Ferring's Pond and everyone had a ball. The boys gave the girls piggy-back rides and weren't those firecrackers which our dignified male members threw from the window of the bus?

SOPHOMORE YEAR

Upon our return to school from summer vacation, we went straight to work and elected as our officers: Ray Kelleher, President; Bill Caruso, Vice-President; Nancy Damon, Secretary; and Shirley Smith, Treasurer.

We were proud to be citizens of Abington High School that Fall, for Abington was the proud possessor of an undefeated football team and some of our boys played on that team.

The winter of our Sophomore year one of our distinguished classmates received a first hand lesson on Newton's Law of Motion when he tried to argue with a moving car. For two months, Dick Fruzzetti attended classes via an intercom system.

Our eminent class further added to its achievements when Sandy David won third grand prize in the Science Fair. Marcia Hewett won fourth grand prize with her pet termite, Alfred, and Bud Doherty, who HAD to work, won an 'out to lunch' sign.

Do any of you Latin students remember Mr. Richard Parson's dogs and Boucephalus, the horse?

For our Sophomore Hop, we had that witty redhead--Dave Maynard for a Disc Jockey and Russ Russell for entertainment. It was another financial success for the class of 1959.

Our Sophomore year ended with a real blast. Our outing was held at Morton's Park, a scenic spot with many natural facilities. In our day of levity, tragedy almost struck. There were just too many people on that raft, and it seems as though someone jumped on Bob Felix's head. Bill Caruso, well fortified with courage, pulled Bob out and applied artificial respiration. To Bill, goes the thanks of the entire class for the deed that probably saved Bob's life; but Frank, please, what textbook advocated pumping the victim's legs?

JUNIOR YEAR

In September, 1957, we entered AHS, as sophisticated, powerful, and at last respected members of this institution of democracy--THIS is a democracy?

Yes, it does bear some resemblance to democracy, for we soon elected as our officers: Ray 'leave everything to me' Kelleher, President; Bob 'the ladies all vote for me' Doherty, Vice-President; Nancy 'Come on kids, let's get to work' Damon, Secretary; and Jim 'None of my friends have to pay class dues' Clifford, Treasurer.

This was a great year in the educational life of the class of 1959. This was the year of NO science projects, of experiments launched from the lab windows by Don Tyni, of a classmate sleeping under the porch with his cat, or girls walking home from Whitman in the wee hours, of turkey legs waved by dignified Junior girls--led by the head cave-girl--Jane Stone, and of course, it was the year when two certain boys spent a very pleasant school day in the West Warwick police station.

This was also a year of parties--P.J. parties, after rally parties, Halloween Parties, New Year's Eve parties, going back to school and getting out of school parties--and Hail to Milwaukee parties.

History

Does anyone remember the path of the flying hotdogs at Evie Kristainsen's cookout? Or, the refreshments smuggled to the Sophomore girls at Shirley Smith's Halloween party? Or, the snowed-in P.J. party at Margaret Doherty's.

The climax to the parties was Shirley Smith's beach party. The girls arrived right after school, Friday, but the boys weren't far behind. After feeding the boys and sending them home, we girls bedded down--down on the floor and piled up to the roof. No one slept a wink all night and it was a pretty sorry lot of femininity that greeted the bright-eyed and bushy-tailed boys when they arrived TOO early Saturday morning.

Our most magnificent, most fantabulous, most splendorous Junior Prom has never been and never will be equalled. Sandy David, Pam Philbrick, and their committees, transformed our gym into an exotic Japanese garden, and successfully lowered the ceiling for the first time in history! The decorations were equalled only by the beauty of our Queen, Beth Stone, and her attendants, Marcia Hewett and Jane Sabin. We danced under Japanese lanterns in our beautiful Japanese garden, to the music of Earl Hannafin and his orchestra. Under the direction of Mr. Hannafin and Mrs. Ferguson, the Juniors performed a grand march of great precision and beauty. To complete the magical evening, we all enjoyed a delicious dinner at the Capeway Manor in Brockton.

Salt water, for our class outing, won the class vote this year so we all journeyed to Craigville. The dampness and cold penetrated our bones so that the class was forced to choose another site--that of Shirley Smith's cottage where we set to work building a fire and making cocoa.

SENIOR YEAR

At last, we, the class of 1959, were able to walk into A.H.S. with our heads held high, for we were now the most supreme, most superior, most stupendous Seniors to ever grace the halls of A.H.S.! As leaders for a class whose deeds would echo through the years to come, we unanimously elected Ray Kelleher, President; and as our other officers, Shirley Smith, Vice-President; Nancy Damon, Secretary; and Jackie Page, Treasurer.

We learned at our orientation assembly, that we are a class which must be governed by a firm hand. Due to certain missing items in the art department, its doors are now closed to all those who would be interior decorators. Also, our beautiful but lavish prom resulted in a curtailment of decoration spending. Too bad, kids, but it WAS a glorious prom!

Yes, we are a class of accomplishments! After three long years, we now know the speed and efficiency with which the administration deals with a problem. It only took three years for them to install a public telephone.

Hobgoblins, hobgoblins, and more hobgoblins--and it wasn't even Halloween! The students at A.H.S. set out one evening to show Rockland we just don't take any nonsense, but neither does Mr. G. However, we rallied a few weeks later, when our football team, led by Wes Orcutt and Bob Doherty, brought us home a victory; a glorious, wonderful, precious victory.

Without a doubt, A.H.S. has the most realistic faculty. When the Seniors went on a class trip, the faculty tried to segregate the sexes. But our ingenious class soon had everything in order, under control, and unsegregated!

Abington High School went wild over the news that our classmates were to appear on Boston Ballroom, a weekly television program. The weeks prior to the A.H.S. debut were spent in mad preparation.

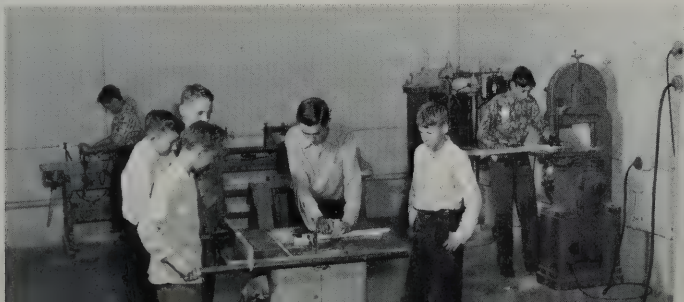

Jo Spooner and Marilyn Beach threw the majority of the parties this year. The pool and pingpong players went to the Beaches' and the dancers went to the Spooners'. Halloween was celebrated on Sue Williamson's lawn.

The Senior Dance was held in November with a total of eighteen loyal Seniors attending. As a highlight of the evening, the Seniors gave away a turkey.

On a Saturday last Fall, it would appear at a quick glance, that the class of 1959 had purchased controlling interest in the Brockton Hospital, for Karin Van der Bil, Jane Sabin, Joan Cheverie, and Monette Plante were residents of said institution. They all seemed to be entertaining their enumerable classmates in grand style.

The preparations for our Winter Carnival were almost as much fun as the dance itself. Can we ever forget that bulgy snowman which HAD to be blown up four times before the leak was finally found? Despite our antics, our Winter Carnival was another fabulous first in decorations and it was the typical spectacular affair sponsored by the class of 1959.

Although we, the class of 1959, leave with sorrow and regret, our enumerable reminiscences of A.H.S. may often come over us like a well-loved song. These treasured memories will forever remain in our hearts and minds.

Class

It is the year 1969, and the Abington High School class of '59 has been sent to "Outer Slobovia" in order to find out if human beings can survive in outer space. This select group had been chosen for this experimental project because it includes the most brilliant people in all fields of endeavor.

We, the people of Slobovia are known as "Slobs." The head of the "Slobs" is Ray Kelleher. Ray has just landed in his new 1969 jet-propelled, super-sonic, rocket which he received for being able to out talk Kruschev in an oration. Now we see Ray addressing a group from "Asphixia," another planet. He is taking them on a guided tour of "Outer Slobovia," and you Earthlings are invited to come along. We are about to leave in our 1969 S.S.S.G.A.W. Drof (super-sonic, streamlined, green and white Ford) with Karen Van der Bil as stewardess.

First we arrive at Slobovia Laboratory. Inside we see the mad scientist, Alan Ramo. Tom Malinowski is showing movies of outer space, taken by Bob Brown and Ed Johansson.

Passing down the corridor, we come to a room in which we see Dave Marden, an A.A.B.T.T.A.L.P.S. (acid and base taste tester and litmus paper sorter), who is trying to sell the vice-presidents, Bob Doherty and Frank Winiewicz on a rocket fuel. They don't think it will work because they think Pepsi-Cola and Lemonade are the only fuels that will get anything off the ground. Dick Fruzzetti, employed as a T.T.W.A.B.B.L. (test tube washer and bunsen burner lighter), is competing with Dave. Between the two of them, "Outer Slobovia" may be blown out of the universe someday.

Next, we arrive at the recreation center. It was completely designed and constructed by Larry Perry, Marshall Lucas, Eddie Brown, and Wally Whiting. Larry created the dome-shaped roof; Eddie designed, sewed, and hung the shower curtains in the girls' locker room; and Marshall and Wally fill the liquid soap dispensers once a week.

In comes Barb Bowser and her various inter-planetary teams. Barb is head athletic director of this planet. Evie Kristainsen's illustrious basketball team are dribbling the balls around the court, practicing for the coming game. The team is wearing Plutonylon rompers--the tops are fuchia and the bottoms are chartreuse. Margaret Kelliher and her renowned field hockey team have just come into the gym. Sue Williamson is the star player on the team--since she has led the team to many a victory, the players will receive the "Slobovia" award for excellence in sportsmanship. This team is wearing bulgy bloomers, designed and made by Bev Bates. As we leave, we hear the manager, Carol Bienvenue cry, "Everyone to the showers."

Our S.S.S.G.A.W. Drof now takes us to the Space Ship Factory. Its head engineer is Pete, "I want to put an earthworm into orbit," Pritchard. Pete has designed all the space ships engaged in interplanetary travel. Dave Poole is also lending expert advice.

In back of the factory is a dancing school for Martians, Venusians, and foreigners like John "Twinkle Toes" Pierce, Bobby "My leotards are too tight" Felix, Donny "I just bought a fur-lined leotard" Tyni, and Steve "I'm learning to dance with my engineer boots on" Young. Leading this dainty class is Jo Ann Spooner.

While on the cultural aspect of the tour, we go to the S.A.M. (Slobovia Art Museum), which Pam Philbrick and Sandy David founded.

In front of the S.A.M., we find a statue of "Little Richard," little Richard Tautkus, that is.

Down the boulevard we find some more "Slobs" who are busy lining up for a drag race. They are: Ray "My red pants fight with my red Chevy" Pike, Jimmy "I lost my grill" Clifford, Buddy "I can't go without kissing Nancy goodbye" Doherty, Bobby "I've got my top down" Inglis--with his chief advisor, Al DeGutis; Jerry "My oil truck will beat anything" Kelliher, Bill "My red hair goes with my white car" Caruso, Bob "I forgot my pipe" Soper, Dave "My muffler is dragging" Nisby, Eddie "I'll never wear red pants" Souza, and Paul "Which one of my five cars shall I use?" Schofield. The boys are growing impatient as they wait at the starting line. There's the whistle and they're off. Listen to that rumble; smell that rubber! Ray and Jimmy are neck and neck. WAIT! Out of the dust we see a figure rapidly catching up. It has won the race. As the dust clears we see it is Bev Porter and Murray White on a bicycle built for two. We now take leave of this boulevard of broken down hot rods so the fellas can work on their cars. Maybe they can find the answer of speed from Bev.

Prophecy

Across from the boulevard we find the "You Pose It, We Snap It" Photography Studio. Among the models we find Jane "Ready! Cheer for Russ Burns, 1-2-3" Barry, Sandy "Am I blushing?" Ladd, Jackie "Can I have a ride home" Page, and Barb "My hair isn't really too short" Page. These girls are posing for Russ "Watch the birdie" Burns.

We go next to the B.V.D. Space Suit Factory. In the office we see a young, good-looking executive, Ed Bettencourt. He has many secretaries. There is Claire Beal who, being very nervous because we are all looking at her, is trying to sharpen a pencil in the bubbler. Winifred Benoit, Betsy Knowles and Mary Ann Winiewicz are in the filing room wading through piles of papers which Frank Zakrewski, office boy, is bringing in. Secretaries Ruth Whitaker, Charlotte Monahan and Margie Corbett have gone out to get some coffee and donuts for the Slobs' coffee break. Nancy Damon, Janice Voudren, and Judy Bishop are the office supervisors and are showing us the rest of the building. We are now watching Bruce Hamlet and David Hayes making glass space helmets. They are using Ken Lathrop and Bill Panepinto as models. Curtis Reid and Vincent Bleasdale are making the suits with Wes Orcutt as the model.

We now stop for refreshments. Behind the counter we see Mary Gannon, Pat Coleman, Judy Garrett, and Bev Sampson. They are all trying to make a Slobovia Split.

At our next stop we see a fabulous mansion owned by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reid (Mrs. Reid was the former Judy Tarr). They have all the luxuries of earth life. Their butler is Bill "Bones" Chiles and their maid is Cathy White.

We now see Dot Hirt, Monette Plante, John Tyrrell and John "'57 Varieties" Hines coming out of the school building. Needless to say they are not students, but teachers.

Zooming along in our Drof, we soon spy a baby-blue convertible not far ahead of us. As we draw nearer we see that it is Dave Burrill and Jean Corey--and there's Barb Brown, too. Dave and Jean are taking her to see Mike in Broctoria, a little town in "Outer Slobovia."

We now follow the trail of two girls--Jane Sabin and Joan Cheverie, to the newly erected Otis Air Force Base, Junior, the only base in air. Ginny Fowler and Janice Smith have decided to go along with them--just for kicks!

As evening draws nigh and we head back in our Drof, we pass a large mansion which is in quite a turmoil. There is a pajama party going on--just like oldtimes--and the hostesses are Marilyn Beach and Shirl Smith. The girls are all gathered around the pool table. Jo Ann Frame has just made the greatest shot ever recorded in the history of "Outer Slobovia." Jane Stone, who is carrying a picture of a certain someone, has just changed the records. She put on the latest hits, "Slobovia Hop" and "Outer Space Cat Call." Connie Pihl, who is doing the cooking, has just sat on a marshmallow and is trying to scrape it off. It looks like the food will be held up for a while. Carol Magoun is taking pictures of this crazy party with her Brownie. She is wearing the latest fashion in sleepwear--Chemise Shorty P.J.'s. Beth Stone is helping Marcia Hewett figure out a ghost story to tell later. Beth has become a great language professor at Slobovia University. She and Marcia are planning to tell the ghost story in Russian so everyone will think it's scary even if it isn't. Shirl Brothers is in the kitchen helping Connie scrape off the marshmallow. Shirl has invented a new cleaning formula which cleans anything and everything.

As we bid adieu to you, Earthlings, we hope that you have enjoyed visiting on "Outer Slobovia" with the class of 1959--the only class that is really--"out of this world!"

We, the class of 1959, being both physically disabled and mentally unsound, and having menaced the lives of all those around us, do here and now bequeath the following as our last Will and Testament.

To all future class presidents we leave the immortal words of Ray Kelleher, "Now Mr. G.!"

To all other future officers we leave patience to cope with truth, justice, and Mr. G.'s way, and the hope that they will discover the key to the tricks which brought us through A.H.S. so successfully.

To all up-coming athletes we leave the techniques of us fabulous Seniors!

MARGARET, stop the field-hockey ball before you hit it, KELLIHER.

JACKIE, you're dragging your pivot foot, PAGE.

BOB, 1, 2, WAY back, DOHERTY.

WES, get those knees up, ORCUTT.

VINNIE, it's 3 and 2, the big one due, BLEASDALE.

We leave to all interested persons our recently published super-duper guide on HOW TO GET AWAY WITH MURDER AT A.H.S. It contains such interesting articles as, HOW, WHEN, AND WHERE TO SMOKE AND GET AWAY WITH IT; HOW TO GET TEACHERS TO POSTPONE TESTS AND LESSON HOMEWORK; and a special feature prepared by JOAN CHEVERIE and MARGARET DOHERTY on HOW TO INVADE SURROUNDING TOWNS AND GET CAUGHT. But you don't need the Seniors to lead the way--you found it very well by yourselves!!

EDDIE BETTENCOURT leaves the underclass girls with much regret.

KARIN VAN DER BIL leaves her roving eye to Beverly Phyffer and Marlene Mills. Karin thinks boys are a worthwhile hobby.

FRANK WINIEWICZ and EDDIE SOUZA leave the motto, CARE, CAUTION, AND COURTESY ON THE HIGH WAYS, to Artie Luke and Danny Brown. Not that they need it!!

BETH STONE, MARCIA HEWETT, and JANE SABIN leave their crowns and titles to all future reigning Junior Prom Queens and Attendants.

RAY PIKE, BILL CARUSO, and PAUL SCHOFIELD leave for Whitman in Ray's WICKED WILLIE.

BEVERLY PORTER leaves her ability to write short stories for the ABHIS, for as many years as it is in publication.

DAVID MARDEN leaves his brilliant marks in English class to 'Hop' Westberg, so that 'Hop' may learn to spell "annihilate."

RAY KELLEHER leaves his ability to talk himself into or out of anything.

DAVE BURRILL and JEAN COREY leave one slightly used baby-blue convertible.

ALAN RAMO leaves the vault to all the fellows who will be running the projectors next year.

CAROL MAGOUN leaves her good behavior so that there may be an empty detention hall for many years to come.

DAVID NISBY leaves the school--what's left of it!

JUDY BISHOP, CLAIRE BEAL, and BEVERLY SAMPSON leave their places at the lunch table to the up-coming Seniors.

DAVID HAYES and EDDIE BROWN leave the vocational shop.

CAROL BIENVENUE leaves her position as manager of girls' sports to any junior girl who can successfully fill her shoes.

BOBBY INGLIS leaves his golden roller skates to any future Roller Derby champion.

CHARLOTTE MONAHAN leaves her after-school baby-sitting jobs to all girls who have taken her course in M.F.H.D.B.B.W.C. or Mother Fletcher's Handy Dandy Baby Burper and Bottle Warmer Course.

SHIRLEY SMITH leaves one used Rocky Point cabin to any girls interested in pajama parties.

KENNY LATHROP leaves a lonesome seat in the cafeteria which was used before the 8:00 o'clock bell.

WINIFRED BENOIT and MARJORIE CORBETT leave a newly acquired part ownership in A.H.S. and part ownership in their past high schools respectively.

DONNIE leaves his car to Ronnie.

KATHY WHITE leaves her position as drum majorette in the band to a worthy underclassman.

DAVID POOLE leaves the delicate music which flows from his trumpet and also his seat in the A.H.S. band.

MONETTE PLANT leaves her special honored position of being the youngest in the class.

AL REID, JUDY TARR, CURT REID, and NANCY DAMON leave the hopes that all Sophomores and Junior girls going with brothers will have as much fun as they have had.

GINNY FOWLER and JANICE SMITH leave A.H.S. for the Brockton boys.

WALLY WHITING and LARRY PERRY leave to Mr. Morey a book entitled CRAFTY COMMENTS--HOW, WHEN, AND WHERE TO USE THEM.

MARIANNE WINIEWICZ leaves a dozen sweet rolls from Martin's Bakery as the refreshments for any parties held in future years.

JIMMY CLIFFORD leaves Judy Sylvester.

Will

PAT COLEMAN leaves the art of note passing in hopes that some underclassman may be as clever as she.

JOHN HINES leaves his great artistic ability to all of A.H.S.'s Picassos.

BETSY KNOWLES and JANICE VOUDREN leave to become the best secretaries in the business world.

BRUCE HAMLET and MURRAY WHITE leave.

ROBERT FELIX leaves the physics lab still intact. Maybe next year it will be blown up.

MARSHALL LUCAS leaves his height to Jimmy Bailey because they are both GIANTS IN DISGUISE.

FRANK ZAKRZEWSKI leaves reluctantly to work in his father's market.

BEVERLY BATES leaves to get married--good luck Bev.

STEVE YOUNG leaves his engineer boots to the underclass boys. We think they will look nice with red chinos.

JOE KELLIHER leaves a year's free supply of oil to A.H.S.

AL DeGUTIS and WILLIAM PANEPINTO leave their quiet footsteps in the halls of A.H.S.

BOB BROWN leaves his stupendous strength to all those interested in his Charles Atlas Course.

Because the Juniors and Sophomores seem to think that they are better than we think they are, we leave to them these qualifications for a perfect girl:

EVIE KRISTIANSEN'S blonde and BARBARA PAGE'S naturally curly hair.

JANE STONE'S big blue or BARBARA BROWN'S big brown eyes.

SANDY LADD'S or MARILYN BEACH'S cute nose.

CONNIE PIHL'S pink cheeks and NANCY DAMON'S smile.

JODY FRAME'S and DOTTY HIRT'S friendliness and cheerfulness.

KARIN VAN DER BIL'S accent and JUDY GARRETT'S southern drawl.

SHIRLEY BROTHERS' poise and MARY GANNON'S courtesy.

SUE WILLIAMSON'S and JEAN COREY'S wit.

JANE BARRY'S and JACKIE PAGE'S flirtatiousness.

JOANNE SPOONER'S and RUTH WHITAKER'S neatness.

The figure we leave to you!

And the qualifications for a perfect boy:

BUDDY DOHERTY'S hair.

RAY PIKE'S and PETE PRITCHARD'S eyes.

BOBBY DOHERTY'S "cunnin" nose.

DONNY TYNI'S laugh.

RICHARD FRUZZETTI'S physique.

TOM MALINOWSKI'S and BILLY CHILE'S shyness.

ALL the boys' flirtatiousness.

JOHN TYRELL'S and RUSS BURNS' humor.

BILLY CARUSO'S smoothness.

SINCERITY--they don't know what the word means.

DICKIE TAUTKUS' air of superiority is just a reminder to you that you can never fill our shoes.

To the Sophomores we leave SANDY DAVID'S and PAMELA PHIBRICK'S decorating ability and our Wishing Well so that you may have as fabulous a Junior Prom as we did.

To the Junior class we leave the job of cleaning up after Reception, and the hope that you have as much fun in their Senior year as we had in ours.

We leave Mr. MOREY'S stale jokes to the cafeteria--they'll feel right at home with the food. (Actually the only reason we survived this year is that the food has been better than ever.)

To Mrs. ROSEN we leave a year's supply of dimes as dues for her French Circle.

To Miss HILL we leave the first round trip ticket to the moon since that's the only place she has never been.

To Mr. MURRAY we leave our sincerest thanks for helping us with all our numerous activities this past year--especially when he arrived to decorate the gym for the Winter Carnival at 8:30 a.m., when no one else arrived until 9:30 a.m.!

To the school we leave a peaceful silence to reign in our absence.

And lastly, we give back to the dear, departed class of 1958--you guessed it--Frank Villa!

The foregoing document was signed and sealed on the twentieth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-nine, in the presence of its writers and the following witnesses:

Dick, "anybody for Latin" Parsons

Mike, "20 lashes with a Bunsen burner hose" Gregory

Rita, "3 cheers for the Irish" McGonigal

John, "wait until the School Committee reads this" Gianoulis
